Accreditation of the Nutritional Therapy degree/post-graduate certificate course at CNELM

The Nutritional Therapy Council is pleased to announce that full accreditation has been awarded for the BSc(Hons)/Dip CNE PG Cert Nutritional Therapy course at the Centre for Nutrition Education and Lifestyle Management (CNELM), effective today, 24th November 2010. CNELM is a private college in Wokingham, Berkshire, and the nutritional therapy degree is also validated by Middlesex University

This is the third course to be accredited by the NTC against the National Occupational Standard (NOS) in Nutritional Therapy. The National Occupational Standards are developed and updated by Skills for Health, www.skillsforhealth.org.uk which is the Sector Skills Council for the healthcare sector, licensed by the Secretary of State for Education and Skills.

Only training providers whose courses successfully achieve full Accreditation can advertise that course as accredited by the NTC and use the NTC logo on advertising material and course prospectus.
